Intended retail investor

The product is intended for private clients who pursue the objective of general asset formation/asset optimization and have a medium to long-term investment horizon. This product is a product for clients with advanced knowledge of and/or experience with financial products. The investor may bear losses up to the total loss of the capital invested and attaches no importance to a capital protection. In the risk and return assessment, the product is in risk class 5 on a scale of 1 (safety-oriented, very low to low yield) to 7 (very risky, highest return).

2. What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 5 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 5 out of 7, which is a medium-high risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium-high level, and poor market conditions will likely impact the issuer's capacity to pay you.

In the case of the delivery of gold price losses may arise even after the exercise day until the gold is delivered to your delivery point.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 5 years, under different scenarios, assuming that you invest EUR 10,000.

The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product.

The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

3. What happens if Deutsche Börse Commodities GmbH is unable to pay out?

You are exposed to insolvency risk, i.e. over-indebtedness or illiquidity on the part of the issuer. The issuer is a special purpose entity. The only means available to the issuer to satisfy all delivery or payment claims resulting from the product will be the gold deposited by it and its gold delivery claims. This product does not provide you with any rights to the gold deposited or gold delivery claims, which are held solely by the issuer. The occurrence of various scenarios relating to this physical gold and the delivery claims may affect the issuer's ability to meet its obligations under the product terms. There is a risk that the gold and the issuer's gold delivery claims will not be sufficient to satisfy your delivery or payment claims. A total loss of your capital invested is possible. The product is a debt security and as such not covered by any deposit protection scheme.

4. What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off and ongoing costs.

The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for three different holding periods. The figures assume you invest EUR 10,000. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.
